BOY SCOUT NEWS

several older Scouts who took turns in charge of drill work.

The First Aid Drill came next and everyone was busily engaged for the next hour. Philip Jenkins was acting assistant to Executive Perham for the evening and also took charge of Observation and Advance First Aid Tests.
Fred Jenkins, W. Clark and Hoyt Day were in charge of Second Class First Aid. Several squads of young knot tying Scouts were instructed in the art by T. Maynard, R. Maynard, Abe Coblenz and Finn Eriksen. The ball rolled too fast and the evening was gone.

The Scouts came to attention and talked over plans for a banquet and demonstration to be held at a future date. Plans for a carpentry exhibit to be placed in some store window proved to be materializing fast and is creating much interest. After appointing Winifred Clark as clean-up man for the evening the Troop stood at attention, saluted and adjourned.

West Sumner Boy Scouts

Troop 1, West Sumner, held their meeting at the Scout hall last Monday evening. Scoutmaster Sidney F. Brown was in charge and assisted by Stanley Perham of Troop 1, West Paris, Maine.
Several committeemen were on hand to witness the Scout activities.

The evening's program was divided into sports and first aid instruction.
Scout S. Perham took charge of first aid and Scoutmaster Brown brought to light a set of boxing gloves that amply took care of the sports program. A good attendance of Scouts were on deck and busy for the evening.

The personnel of Troop 1 is as follows: Scoutmaster, Sidney Brown; Assistants, C. Ryerson and Arthur Farrar.
Scouts, Guy Barrows, Arthur Adams,
Kenneth Pulsifer, Arthur Newell, Odell
T. Heath, Vernal Chandler, David Adams, Norwood Ford, Vernon Redding, Wallace Dyer, Clifford Abbott, Alfred
Mason, Chester Cole and Kenneth Cole.
Plans for a hike in the near future are in progress and promises well for a good attendance.

Rumford Scouts to Have New Scout- master

Troop 1, Rumford, Maine, have gained a welcome addition to their troop. Dr. G. Douglas Clark, osteopathic physician and medical adviser, for the Rumford High School football team is to be the new Scoutmaster.

Rome men claim that they know boys and like to work with boys—yet they never do it. Other men who have worked with boys, like boys, are continually giving up valuable time to the interest of the youth of America. Your first impression is generally expressed by "he has the time, etc." Look into the matter and you wonder where the time comes from and how the man can afford to do it. The question simmers down to this—he forgets number one and tags it on the boy. Don't "pass the buck."

This is a great age for trying to get something for nothing. For this reason alone every reader should appreciate the efforts of the Scoutmaster. He is training your boy and teaching him the fundamental truths of American Manhood—for nothing. When you get a chance to partially even the score, do so and boost Scouting in Oxford County.

Mexico Boy Scouts

Troops 1 and 2 held their last meeting in the K. of P. Hall in Mexico.
Thirty-one Scouts were present for the evening and certainly made things
"hum." Scoutmaster Strout and Executive Perham took charge of the meeting and were assisted in Advance
First Aid work by Dr. G. Douglas Clark, the new Scoutmaster of Troop 1, Rum-ford, Maine.

At 7:15 the Troop came to attention, repeated the Scout Oath and Laws and pledged allegiance to the flag of the United States. Following this came the strenuous game of catch and pull, a game that every Scout can do and never gets tired of. First Aid and Knot Tying Drill was next in order with H.
Keyo, G. Foley, G. Williams and A.
Drouin instructors in First Aid and Eugene Williams in charge of Knot Tying demonstration.

At 9 o'clock the Troop stood at attention for general instructions. Scoutmaster Strout and Dr. Clark both gave short speeches and Executive Perham read a letter from Scout Stevens who is fast recovering in the C. M. G. Hospital at Lewiston. At 9:15 every Scout came to salute and was dismissed.

Norway American Legion Gives Supper for Boy Scouts

Twenty-six Boy Scouts and Scoutmaster Lawrence Dennison from the Norway Troop dined at the supper given Wednesday evening at the supper given in their honor by the Norway Stone Post, American Legion. Genuine oysters, real milk, and the fixings were assembled into a delicious stew by an army cook, and served army style at Legion Hall.
The way the Scouts went over the top and into the bowl of stew was a caution. Every boy made good in the drive and not ashamed to report for a second helping. They certainly punished the cook in the intensive drive along the whole sector. Victory was completed with not an oyster left to furnish some newspaper with a personal story of the attack.

Scout games and contests for prizes followed, under the supervision of Scoutmaster Dennison. A centipede race was won by a team composed of Aas Packard, Houghton Kimball, Henry Favor, Jimmy Sanborn, William Walker and Roy Barker. Aas Packard proved the high score boy, winning the Indian wrestle and the last shoe race. Several Scouts demonstrated the Fireman's Lift and performed other stunts. After this program the boys were given freedom of the rooms and they enjoyed various games while listening to the radio concert.

The Legion committee that put across this good time included Orville "Bushy" Palmer, Scott Palmer, Lester J. Witham, Merton "Rusty" Herrick and Walter Polindexter.

Beauty and economy of painting win instant approval of improved Super-Surface

UPSON-BOARD

SEVEN hundred women were shown this new Super-Surface with samples of other surfaces.

Ninety-nine per cent enthusiastically selected Super-Surface as the ideal lining for the finest rooms in their homes. The opinion of 1500 wall board dealers was likewise asked. Again, over ninety-nine per cent favored Super-Surface.

Upson Board is different in other respects as well. Not only is it nearly twice as strong—harder and stiffer—but it is also, now, the most beautiful board.

Look up at your ceilings—look at your walls! If the plaster is unsafe or unsightly, it is time to Upsonize! Your carpenter can apply the big, sturdy panels of Upson Board right over the old plaster.

THE J. E. JONES LETTER

THE TREND TOWARD MONOPOLY

A dozen years ago every agency of the government was directed towards checking the growth of monopolies. The Sherman Anti-trust law had lain dormant for many years until the Roosevelt administration decided to enforce its provisions. Then came the long drawn out suits to determine what the law meant. The Standard Oil Company was "dissolved," and the tobacco trust was "annihilated." For a brief period monopolies and trusts were regarded as enemies to the public welfare.

The next number on the reel found the Federal Government regulating big business through a Bureau of Corporations which was enlarged in the earlier days of the Wilson administration and merged into the newly created Federal Trade Commission. After many arduous days this Commission has settled down to an enforcement of laws and regulations which seek to prevent unfair competition. The Commission has issued hundreds of complaints, and decided many cases, wherein they have defined "unfair competition" and "unfair trade." Little attempt is any longer made to disturb monopolies or trusts, but strenuous efforts are made to direct the manner of their dealings with the public.

Last year Congress passed the Packers and Stockyards Control Act, and under its provisions the Secretary of Agriculture has attempted to establish rather definite methods by which business shall be carried on between the packers and the stockyards and the producers. In several cases there has been a sharp conflict between the Federal Government and the packing interests, but the outcome in each instance gives ground for an optimistic view of the situation because amicable adjustments have as a rule been reached, owing no doubt to the fact that the business interests of the country, including the packers, have grown to respect the position of the Government, and to recognize its right to lay down specific rules for their regulation and control. Until rather recently the packers were among the most tempestuous elements with which the Government had to deal. Everything that was done in Washington was resented as "an interference" with their self-ordained rights. They hired the best lawyers in the country and stood by them when they fought the Federal Trade Commission and other Government bureaus and departments. No doubt the packers have seen the error of their way, and they appear to have found out that if they behave themselves that there is little difficulty in getting along with the Federal Government.

A QUESTION OF BEHAVIOR

Two of the Chicago "big five" meat packers have proposed to merge their businesses. They have laid their plans before the Agricultural Department and the Department of Justice; and in turn the Secretaries of these branches of the Government have been in consultation with the President. There has been no secrecy about the merger, and Congress has known all about it.

A few years ago all the anti-trust and anti-legal machinery of the Government would have been turned loose to prevent this merger. To-day the only question that has been raised has concerned the details of the plan, in order to make sure that the policies with reference to similar mergers have been adhered to. No one seems particularly concerned about the merger being a move in the direction of further monopoly of the packers interests. The ordinary practices of "fair trade" constitute the Federal interest which seeks to find out whether or not the public rights are being abridged by the new merger in any way.

The "dissolution" of the Standard Oil Company has gotten to be a good deal of a joke in the public mind. Most people believe that the "big five" Chicago packers are as thick as peas in a pod. The tobacco trust is generally supposed to have a stronger grip upon the flow of nicotine than before it was "dissolved."

If anything has come out of the resulting better understanding of the aims of big business, and the rights of the Government to intervene or intercede, the whole thing resolves itself, in the last analysis, into an undertaking upon the part of the Government to a regulation of the behavior and honesty of all classes of citizens who conduct business. The size of the institution seems to be a matter of very minor concern, and Uncle Sam has retired from the field as a trust buster. In his new role he specializes on the question of behavior.

ACCEPTED RADIO

It doesn't take the American public long to adopt the new sciences, as it proved by the ready acceptance of radio which in a few months has been pressed into service to carry on a tremendous amount of overseas communication, while at the same time its broadcasting features have made it possible for people in most isolated sections to listen in on great concerts. Now they are privileged to hear an address to Congress by their President. Who would have supposed such a thing possible a few years ago? Weather and crop reports have been successfully bulletined, and we are now assured that members of Congress speaking on the floor will make themselves heard by their constituents in their home districts. It is little wonder that the pioneers who have made radio over from a toy to a public service have in a few months built up a great business that seems destined to rank in importance commercially with the telephone, cable and telegraph industries.

"YOU CANNOT HAVE THIS BILL"

Senator Underwood told the Senate the other day when it was discussing the so-called Dyer anti-lynching bill that "this bill is not going to become a law at this session of Congress. You are not going to get a vote on this bill," he added. It was a broad threat that meant a possible filibuster. Accepted leaders like Underwood do not usually stand for filibusters, but when conservatives of his class place themselves in this role it is plain enough to figure out in advance what the progressives and so-called radical groups of the Senate expect to do this winter in tying up the legislative machinery. United effort on the part of the Senate and the House might result in putting through the Administration's legislative program before next March. But there is a hopeless lack of any such spirit, and warnings like Senator Underwood's are sure to be repeated. Many of the appropriation bills will not be permitted to go through before March 4. The reason for this is obvious. The political complexion of both branches of Congress will be revolutionized in March. Because they know this, the retiring leaders of Congress are seeking to enforce their views, and to pass their kind of laws while they are in office. But "the other fellows" know that time is the essence of their strength and whole flocks of them are determinedly preparing to imitate the illustrious Underwood. In the coming weeks one after another of them may be expected to stand up in the Senate to declare: "You cannot have this bill!"

RAILROAD SITUATION GOES OVER

Senator Cummins of the Senate Interstate Commerce Commission has let it be known that railroad problems are all in cold storage, and this seems satisfactory to everybody on Capitol Hill because the present Congress thinks well of the law, while the incoming Congressmen carried a confident air through the election that they, and they alone, know how to make the transportation law over. Apparently it is the one point on which all politicians agree.

ALBANY

Clifford and Albion Taylor of Bryant Pond have finished hauling hay from Hunt's Corner to Arthur Andrews'.

R. H. Berry is hauling wood from Abel Andrews' to Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beckler entertained at their home, Thanksgiving Day: Charles Beckler and family, Miss Maud Beckler, George Cummings and son, Herman, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Matland Bird and children and Mrs. Laura Pinkham and son and Guy Johnson.

Archie Bass was a week end visitor at John Jones'.

John Jones has employment with Mr. Hersey, who has a crew of men at work on the Eames lot in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel Andrews recently visited their nephews, Ernest and Herbert Andrews, at North Chatham.

Mrs. Laura Pinkham of Kennebunkport has been spending a few days with her father, George Cummings, and is now keeping house for her sister, Mrs. Alta Bird, who is teaching the school in the Dresser district.

Arthur Andrews and family of Bryant Pond, Mrs. Sumner Grover, Percy Grover and family of Stoneham, Ernest Paine and family of South Paris and John Hamilton of Lewiston were guests at Abel Andrews', Thanksgiving.

Roy Andrews and family of Bethel, Albert Keniston and family and Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Haselton were Thanksgiving guests at L. J. Andrews'.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Annie Hazeltin the Marshall school gave an entertainment and dance Friday evening, Nov. 24. Following is the program:

Song, "America," School Recitation, "Thanksgiving Day," George Logan

Concert Reading, "The Landing of the Pilgrims,"

Arthur Cressey and Edith Wilbur Dialogue, "Cum Je Cum,"

Merton Conner, Myrtle Perkins, Francesa Wilbur and George Logan Recitation, "Grandma's Letter,"

"Thanksgiving Day," Francesa Wilbur Recitation, "Little Cup Bearer,"

Adella Cummings Concert Reading, "Harry and the Guide Post," Edith Wilbur, Arthur Cressey

Songs, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," "The Long, Long Trail,"

School Recitation, "Success," Helen Beckler Play, "Two Aunts and a Photograph,"

Edith Cummings, Adella Cummings, Helen Beckler, Annie Hazeltin Monologue, "Aunt Doleful's Philosophy,"

Edith Cummings After the entertainment a box supper was enjoyed by the many friends of the children. The boxes were auctioned off by Mr. Roy Wardwell. Ice cream bars were on sale and a fish pond which the children took turns looking after. The room was then cleared and a dance was enjoyed the rest of the evening. Mrs. Hazel Wardwell and Mr. Newell Andrews furnished the music. A total of $12.00 was collected over all expenses for the evening.

DON'T RISK NEGLECT

Don't neglect a constant backache, sharp, darting pains or urinary disorders. The danger of dropsy or Bright's disease is too serious to ignore. Use Doan's Kidney Pills as have your friends and neighbors. A Bethel case, F. M. Wood, 4 Park St., says: "My kidneys began to annoy me after I had strained my back lifting. My back ached pretty badly and I was in bad shape for a long time. When I took cold, my kidneys became congested and at times they acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended, so I began to use them and they took hold of the trouble quickly. I soon had relief from the backache and the action of my kidneys was corrected. I use Doan's now occasionally and am always benefited. I always keep the remedy on hand, getting my supply at Rosserman's Drug Store." (Statement given June 8, 1916.)

On September 9, 1920, Mr. Wood said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have done fine work whenever I have used them for any sign of kidney weakness. I think just as highly of Doan's today as when I first endorsed them."

THE IMPROVED ASPIRIN TABLET

Tingles
LAXO ASPIRIN

Aspirin is prescribed by physicians more often than any other drug. It is safe and quickest relief from congestion, pain and fever. TINGLES LAXO-ASPIRIN is the new scientific aspirin tablet. It is gently laxative, cleansing the system of poisons which are often the cause of pain. Does not cause heartburn or indigestion as ordinary aspirin does. Breaks up a cold--removes the acid and relieves the pain of rheumatism, neuritis and lumbago. Brings almost instant relief in headache and neuralgia. Ask your druggist for TINGLES LAXO-ASPIRIN in the three point box, or mailed postpaid for 25c. Therapeutic Research Laboratories, Washington, D. C.
